Pre-Kindergarten Program

Belonging, Being, Becoming

The Early Years Learning Framework is a national early learning framework from birth to five years. The Framework's vision is for all children to experience play-based learning that is engaging and builds success for life. Educators use the framework to develop learning programs responsive to children's ideas, interests, strengths and abilities, and recognise that children learn through play.

The Early Years Learning Framework describes childhood as a time of belonging, being and becoming. Belonging is the basis for living a fulfilling life. Children feel they belong because of the relationship they have with their family, community, culture and place.

Being is about living here and now. Childhood is a special time in life and children need time to just 'be' -time to play, try new things and have fun.

Becoming is about the learning and development that young children experience. Children start to form their sense of identity from an early age, which shapes the type of adult they will become.

It is well known that children learn best when they have secure relationships with caring adults. When children develop trusting relationships they feel more confident and able to explore and learn.
